REQUEST FOR REFUND DUE TO OVERPAYMENT OF ISSUE/PUBLICATION FEES

Sir:

Applicants respectfully request a refund of the Issue Fee and Publication Fee, $1400.00 and $300.00, respectively in the patent application referenced above.

1,700.00

The facts are that, when attempting to make this payment electronically on October 13, 2006, applicants encountered an error causing them to believe that the payment process failed. No electronic receipt was ever generated. Subsequently, applicants made a second attempt to pay said fees and encountered the same problem and again, no electronic receipt was generated. After logging out and then logging back into the USPTO electronic filing site and checking the last 20 filings, applicants noted that the first attempt at payment had been successful. The deposit account of Texas Instruments Incorporated was debited on October 16, 2006 for the payment of two Issue fees and two publication fees for the above-referenced application. A copy of the deposit account showing the two debits is enclosed with this request.

Please credit the overpayment of $1700.00 to the deposit account of Texas Instruments Incorporated, Account No. 20-0668. Charge any fee associated with this request, or credit any overpayment to the same Deposit Account.

Respectfully submitted,
